Jason Aspinall

Chief Financial Officer

Jason Aspinall serves as SSP's Chief Financial Officer, leading the Accounting, HR, and IT teams. Since joining SSP in 2021, he has empowered his team to drive improvements and leveraged his expertise for strategic progress.

Jason strongly believes that having the right people in the right roles, who live your core values, is key to organizational success.

Before SSP, Jason spent 15 years at a multinational corporation in both factory and corporate finance roles. He holds a BA in Accounting from Bradley University and an MBA from Illinois State University.

Outside of work, Jason enjoys running and spending time with his wife and children, both at home and while traveling.
